| 1. select | SELECT column1, column2, FROM table_name;      |
|-----------|------------------------------------------------|
|           |                                                |
|           | <pre>SELECT * FROM table_name;</pre>           |
| 2 select  | SELECT DISTINCT Country FROM Customers;        |
| distinct  |                                                |
|           | SELECT COUNT(DISTINCT Country) FROM Customers; |
|           |                                                |
|           |                                                |
|           |                                                |
|           |                                                |
|           |                                                |
|           |                                                |